Joint Statement of Navajo Nation and San Juan County

In the spirit of cooperation, San Juan County and the Navajo Nation have agreed to a new County Commission district map that the County adopted on September 12, 2023. This new map addresses concerns raised by the Navajo Nation in providing more meaningful opportunity to elect their candidates of choice.

San Juan County continues to strive to work with the Navajo Nation as a partner in meeting the needs of Navajo and all citizens of San Juan County. The Navajo Nation and San Juan County are pleased to announce that they have been able to resolve their differences through the adoption of the new map. The Navajo Nation and San Juan County hope that this resolution will allow them to move forward in improving the lives of San Juan County residents and members of the Navajo Nation.
